GOBO TYPES

Full Colour Glass Gobos

We use the patented Beacon thin film technology to create these gobos. This gives us a stunning palette of colours to create complex photographic images.

They are made with a single blackline layer and to this we add another three 0.1mm thick dichroic layers to achieve the 4 layer CMYK gobo. If available for your fixture we then fit a protective ring for added durability and customer presentation but please handle these gobos with extreme care.

NOTE: Full Colour glass gobos are non reversable so please advise us if you are front or rear projecting.

Spot Colour Glass Gobos

A Spot Colour gobo is a two layer gobo that is produced with a single blackline layer sandwiched to a single colour layer from our spot colour dichroic range. If available for your fixture we then fit a protective ring for added durability and customer presentation but please handle these gobos with extreme care.

NOTE: Spot Colour glass gobos are non reversable so please advise us if you are front or rear projecting.

Black and White Glass Gobos

B&W glass gobos are created with one black or white surface to avoid reflections and increase sharpness of your image (silver side to lamp).

The gobo is produced using a high resolution process resulting in an almost photographic quality gobo.

NOTE: The B&W glass gobos are non reversable so please advise us if you are front or rear projecting.

Stainless Steel Gobos

Stainless Steel gobos are a stencil cut. They are a great cost effective way of creating a gobo, but do have restrictions on the amount of detail that can be achieved. Whether an image will work in steel is determined by the gobo size and the detail in the design.

Any design can be done in glass if it too detailed to work for your fixture in Stainless Steel.
